SKU: 188069    UPC: 041093936371

The Sonance Speaker Module for VX42 and VX46 is engineered for exceptional audio performance, making it a perfect choice for both residential and commercial spaces. Designed to fit seamlessly into the Sonance VX series, these speaker modules are perfect for creating a premium sound experience without compromising on aesthetics. The modules are sold separately from the frames and grilles, allowing you to customize your installation to best fit your design preferences.

Both variants, the VX42 and VX46, share a commitment to high-quality sound reproduction, making them suitable for various applications, from home theaters to outdoor patios. The modules are crafted with advanced technology that ensures superior sound clarity and depth, providing listeners with an immersive audio experience. Each model is optimized for different applications, allowing you to choose the right module based on your specific needs.

While both modules excel in sound performance, the VX42 is designed for smaller spaces, making it ideal for compact installations. In contrast, the VX46 caters to larger areas, delivering enhanced sound output for expansive settings. This difference in size and performance makes the selection of the right module crucial for achieving optimal acoustic results in your environment.
